2009 Annual Conference

Seasons of Change

October 20-21, 2009

Tulsa Marriott Southern Hills

This continuing nursing education activity was approved by St. John Medical Center, an approved provider, by the Colorado Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation.

Provider SJM-0703 approval expires June 30, 2012.
A Message from the Conference Chair

“Seasons of Change” is our theme for the 2009 Annual Oklahoma Hospice and Palliative Care Association (OHPCA) Conference. The Conditions of Participation (COPS) and Quality Assessment and Performance Improvement (QAPI) have made significant alterations in the hospice industry. Our forms, documentation and everyday procedures have changed to be in compliance. On a daily basis, we see changes in our patients and families. “To everything there is a season…a time to be born and a time to die…” In addition, we see changes in ourselves as hospice professionals as we grow and stretch our limits in response to these differences and must address the need for balance in our own lives so that we can be compassionate, caring individuals for others.

Our conference speakers will address change in a variety of ways to educate and inspire us to new heights. We have worked to help you identify which disciplines will benefit most from each session. Also new, we are “going green,” so all handouts for our concurrent speakers are provided on our OHPCA website.

For the past 10 months, it has been my privilege and honor to work with a small but mighty group of 10 dedicated committee members to create this program for you. For the first time, two hospice volunteers have served and brought so much to our conference committee. Please join me in thanking all of the committee members for their long hours spent on your behalf and in giving special kudos to Lavane Vowell, OHPCA Chief Operating Officer, whose skillful communication, attention to detail and large dose of patience, serves as the hub of the wheel for our organization.

Please visit our variety of exhibitors here to provide you with the latest products, services and information on end-of-life care and remember to thank them for supporting our OHPCA Annual Conference.

Welcome and please make the most of our time networking together at this conference. We value your ideas, opinions and suggestions and are looking for help in planning the 2010 Annual Conference. If you would like to join this committee next year, turn in your contact information to the Information desk.

With Heartfelt Appreciation,

Benelle Reeble, Ph.D., CVA,
2009 Annual OHPCA Conference Chair

About the Conference

In the past year, hospices across the nation have begun complying with brand new Medicare Conditions of Participation (CoPs) that have dramatically changed the way they do business. For many hospices, these changes have been, at best, challenging to implement and at worst, overwhelming.

The Oklahoma Hospice and Palliative Care Association is the industry’s best advocate for quality hospice care throughout the state and the best source of current educational information about the interpretation of the new CoPs. It is also a wonderful forum for exchanging ideas among hospice peers. Designed to provide something for every hospice discipline, this conference should prove to be a valuable road map for navigating through change. Speakers have been chosen that we hope will not only educate, but will also motivate attendees to find innovative ways to serve their patients with a renewed commitment to quality.

Target Audience
Nurses (hospice, home health, hospital, long-term care), administrators, social workers, chaplains, medical directors and physicians, bereavement coordinators, volunteer coordinators, certified nursing assistants, hospice support staff (including marketing, pharmacy, and financial).

Overall Conference Goals
♦ Help hospice staff members of all disciplines learn to better comply with regulatory changes enacted during the last year.
♦ Educate hospice professionals about methods to improve the quality of end-of-life care.
♦ Orient members of each hospice discipline to new, creative and more effective ideas of delivering hospice services.
♦ Stimulate thoughtful dialogue on ethical issues related to end-of-life care.

Conference Objectives
Participants will be able to:
♦ Navigate through the new hospice regulations as they relate to their particular disciplines.
♦ Identify key financial challenges and solutions confronting hospices in the current economic climate.
♦ Articulate effective pain and symptom management techniques.
♦ Identify recruitment, training and retention techniques of volunteers to help improve patients’ quality of life.
♦ Manage symptoms of stress experienced by both professional and family caregivers.
♦ Identify and discuss the ethical issues confronting hospice providers.

feelings, many of us avoid telling the truth when the truth needs to be told. Learn how you can be straightforward and honest with everyone with whom you interact without damaging relationships.

3:30-4:30 p.m.   Concurrent Sessions
“Advance Healthcare Planning and Mental Incapacity”
Annette Prince, MA, MSW, JD   Birch
Health professionals will gain knowledge regarding different legal documents available for healthcare planning in the state of Oklahoma, who can execute those documents and the requirements and authority granted in such documents.

“Completion of the Oklahoma Death Certificate”
Mikeal Murray, MS   Sycamore
A complete and accurate death certificate is the final act of kindness a physician can provide for the deceased patient and his or her family. It’s also the law. Learn how the death certificate is prepared, processed and can be obtained by the family in a timely manner.

“Impact of Cultural Experiences of Loss, Grief and Mourning”
Susan Lashmet Miller, LCSW   Silver Oak A
As hospice health care professionals, it is our responsibility to accompany family and friends on the difficult journey of loss, grief and mourning when a loved one dies. Our ability to do this depends on our understanding of the patient’s and family’s values, spirituality and culture.

“Volunteer Management 101”
Joan Hutchings, MHR   Redbud
Volunteer Management 101 will identify the fundamentals of hospice volunteer management with respect to the psychological indicators of perspective volunteers, program development, training and outcome measures. Participants will be able to discuss current issues in volunteer management and evaluate how to incorporate new management principles into their current program.

“State Surveys”
Clayton S. Hickox, RN, BSN   Silver Oak B
What are surveyors looking for when they come to your hospice and start going through patient charts? Learn from the man who supervises all the surveyors in the state. This question and answer session will allow participants to ask whatever they want to know about the licensure and Medicare certification programs.
solutions to the regulatory challenges that you face on a daily basis.

12:45-1:45  Luncheon Plenary Session
“There is No ‘They’”
Larry Johnson  Sequoia Room
While on a bicycling vacation in 2003, C.J., who is Larry’s wife and life partner of 38 years, was involved in an accident that changed their world. In this dynamic, humorous and heartfelt presentation, Larry shows the audience how they can make a huge difference in the patients’ perceptions of the care they receive.

2:15-3:15 p.m.  Concurrent Sessions
“A Basic Introduction to Quality Improvement”
Melody Lahann, MS, MHCA  Silver Oak A
“QAPI,” as CMS affectionately calls it, is a new addition to the Hospice Conditions of Participation and has caused many to ask what it is, how to do it, and of course, why we have to do it. This workshop will present very basic performance improvement information, including reviewing how to meet the new regulations, how to determine what data to collect and how to develop performance improvement projects.

“Ethics of Dying”
Susan Muscari, JD  Sycamore
This presentation will give anyone an opportunity to learn more about end of life decisions, how Oklahoma law treats such decisions and what should be considered during the process. Informative and thought-provoking, discussions are casual, relaxed and inclusive of questions.

“Pets and Patients: The Human Animal Bond in Life and Death”
Delana Taylor McNac, DVM, MA, LPC  Birch
Pet ownership and the significance of the human-animal bond have often been overlooked when hospice personnel assess the psychosocial and spiritual needs of hospice patients and caregivers. This presentation examines current trends in pet ownership, the role of the family pet within the family system and the often symbolic identities of pets in individual pet-owner relationships. (This is a repeat of Tuesday’s session.)

“My Gift: Myself”
JoAnne Chitwood, RN  Birch
This session will share some of the basic secrets to successfully working with and honoring hospice volunteers. Learn how your hospice team can participate in creating a climate of significance and purpose for the volunteer and how you can reward volunteers in ways that are deeply meaningful to them.

“Absolute Honesty”
Larry Johnson  Silver Oak B
Whether it’s fear of reprisal, natural timidity, or not wanting to hurt someone’s down

Continuing Education
A total of 9.7 nursing contact hours have been applied for the seminar, 4.25 hours for the first day attendance and 5.5 for the second day, through the Colorado Nurses Association. The Oklahoma Hospice and Palliative Care Association is also applying for approval from the Oklahoma State Board of Social Workers. Certificates of attendance will be provided for all other disciplines needing CEUs. All of the information that you need for obtaining contact hours or CEUs will be available at the Contact Hour/CEU desk located near the registration area. You must sign up at this desk to receive continuing education credit and you will need to complete an evaluation for each workshop attended to receive your certification.

This continuing nursing education activity was approved by St. John Medical Center, an approved provider, by the Colorado Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation. Provider #SJM-0703 approval expires June 30, 2012.

Exhibitors
A wide variety of up-to-date products and services will be on display by Conference Exhibitors who will be located in the hallways outside of the meeting rooms on the second floor. Please see the list of exhibitors in your registration packet.

Meals
A continental breakfast and lunch will be provided on both Tuesday and Wednesday, as well as afternoon snacks each day. Lunch tickets have been issued with registration packets.

Smoking Policy
Smoking is not permitted in any of the sessions. This policy includes plenary sessions, concurrent sessions, meals and meetings. Please limit smoking to designated smoking areas of the hotel.

OHPCA Annual Meeting
All Conference participants are invited to attend the annual meeting of the Oklahoma Hospice and Palliative Care Association scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 20 during the luncheon.

Awards Ceremony
During its annual meeting, the Oklahoma Hospice and Palliative Care Association will present its annual awards. In addition to the traditional Virginia Staples Volunteer of the Year and the Home Health Aide/Nurse Assistant of the Year, the association will, for only the second time, present the following now-annual awards: Physician of the Year, Social Worker of the Year, Nurse of the Year, Spiritual Counselor of the Year and the President’s Award.

---

This year, hospices have experienced one of the most challenging times in the industry. This session will identify the hot regulatory issues, answer the current toughest regulatory questions and provide resources to help you find...
David Brim, DPh
Birch
When patients are in pain, they need the very best medication for the type of pain that they suffer. Learn the differences between acute and chronic pain, their origins in the body and what conventional treatments can do in comparison to compounded treatment options and alternatives.

“Partnering with Nursing Facilities While Living Within the Regulations” Roseanne Berry, MS, RN and
Charlene Ross,MSN, MBA, RN
Sycamore
Developing a strong partnership between a hospice and nursing facility requires planning, education and collaboration. Learn which key issues influence the ability of nursing facilities and hospices to achieve quality outcomes for residents at the end of life and remain in compliance.

“Whose Journey Is It Anyway?”
Fran Mosher, RN,MSN
Richard Coleman, RN and
Gla dean Allred, EdD
Silver Oak A
A patient’s journey in hospice can be full of pitfalls if the views of both the patient and the clinician don’t mirror one another. The hospice clinician must analyze his/her past experiences with death and dying throughout the hospice journey to ensure harmony with the patient’s wishes at the end of life.

“The Power of Touch: Exploring Reiki and Healing Touch”
Ruth Ann Kelly, RMT and
Keeley Mancuso, HTPA
Redbud
As change sweeps through healthcare, touch therapies are reaching growing numbers of clients and caregivers. Both Reiki and Healing Touch offer clients profound relaxation, stress relief, balance and restoration. Come learn what energy medicine is and how it can help both hospice clients and caregivers.

“Oklahoma Hospice Then and Now”
Mary Lee Warren and
Cathy Graber, RN
Silver Oak B
For 23 years, Mary Lee Warren served Judith Karman Hospice as Executive Director. In that time, as both a state and national hospice leader, she experienced a tremendous amount of change in the hospice industry in Oklahoma and in the nation. Cathy Graber recently retired after many years as Executive Director of Hospice Circle of Love in Enid. Come share their wisdom as they answer questions about hospice as it was in its infancy and as they invision it in the future.
Plenary Speakers

J. Donald Schumacher, PsyD, President, NHPCO

Don Schumacher is President and CEO of the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization, the largest membership organization representing hospice and palliative care programs and professionals in the world. He serves as President of the National Hospice Foundation and Foundation for Hospices in Sub-Saharan Africa. A licensed clinical psychologist, Dr. Schumacher developed pioneering programs in pediatric palliative care, bereavement education and other areas as CEO of the Center for Hospice and Palliative Care in Buffalo, N.Y. from 1989-2002. Earlier, he founded one of the first HIV/AIDS hospices in the U.S., the Hospice of Mission Hill in Boston.

Judith Lund Person, MPH

Judi Lund Person has been the Vice President of Quality for the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization since July 2002. Prior to joining the team at NHPCO, she served for 22 years as the President and CEO of The Carolinas Center for Hospice and End of Life Care. Lund Person lends her quality and regulatory expertise as a key contact with the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. She also represents hospice and palliative care with many national organizations, including the Alzheimer’s Association, the American Society of Consultant Pharmacists, the National Rural Health Association, American Medical Directors Association, the National Consensus Project for Quality Palliative Care and the Hospice and Palliative Care Coalition. She earned a Bachelor’s in sociology from the University of North Carolina-Greensboro and a Master’s in public health from the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill.

Larry Johnson

As a speaker, author and consultant, Larry Johnson focuses on building healthy organizational cultures that promote operational excellence, motivated employees and happy customers. Larry has spoken for the American Health Care Association and the American College of Health Care Administrators. He and his wife, CJ, have spoken for the Arizona Association of Homes and Services for the Aging and the Kansas Health Care Association. Larry is the author of Beyond HCFA: Accelerating Long Term Quality and Absolute Honesty: Building a Corporate Culture That Values Straight Talk and Rewards Integrity. For eight years, he was a regular contributing columnist for Balance, the professional journal for the American College of Health Care Administrators.

Awards Presentation Ceremony Frank Mitchell, Chief Meteorologist, KTUL Tulsa

2:15-3:15 p.m. Concurrent Sessions

“Don’t Get Caught Off Guard with ADRs” Cottage Oak A

Betty Nollan, RN, MBA Silver Oak A

Be ready for ADRs and Medicare billing audits. Don’t get caught off guard! Knowing the ins and outs of CMS’ mandated Corrective Action Plan can help your organization be prepared.

“Legal Issues at the End of Life” Redbud

Jill Watskey, JD Redbud

This session will focus on providing hospice professionals with the information they need to best serve their patients from a legal standpoint. Topics will include how to assist the patient with diminished capacity as well as other legal issues that arise in end-of-life situations.

“Pets and Patients: The Human Animal Bond in Life and Death” Birch

Delana Taylor McNac, DVM, MA, LPC Birch

Pet ownership and the significance of the human-animal bond have often been overlooked when hospice personnel assess the psychosocial and spiritual needs of hospice patients and caregivers. This presentation examines current trends in pet ownership, the role of the family pet within the family system and the often symbolic identities of pets in individual pet-owner relationships.

“Managing Volunteer Programs in Times of Change” Sycamore

Kathleen Roble, MS Sycamore

Hospice organizations around the country are dealing with important changes in regulations, patient census and competition within their communities. Volunteers are many times the last people in the organization to learn about the changes, yet when volunteers are engaged early in the process they can often lead the way.

“Emotional Intelligence: Are your Emotions Working For You or Against You?” Silver Oak B

Gregory A. Wood, MS, LBSW Silver Oak B

Leaders of all types, whether at the executive level, mid-management level or simply the unspoken leader on a team all have positions of influence and the potential to make a difference in their environment and organization’s mission and purpose. Learn how to better relate to others, impact your workplace and increase personal and team productivity.

9:15 a.m.-10:15 a.m.  Plenary Session
“The Hospice Industry Moving Forward: Health Care Reform and Hospice in 2009 and Beyond”

J. Donald Schumacher     Sequoia Room
As the health care reform issue continues to make headlines, many hospice employees wonder about the future of our mission and reimbursement. This plenary will focus on all of the issues that are facing hospices today.

10:45-11:45   Concurrent Sessions

“Understanding Alzheimer’s and How it Affects Communication and Behavior”

Jackie Lenzy, BS, BA     Redbud
All behavior is a form of communication. Realizing this, it is important to understand how an Alzheimer’s patient’s brain functions and how that function affects communication and behavior.

“Diversity in Death and Dying Beliefs”

Danette McIntosh, EdD, AASECT     Silver Oak B
Death and dying might be thought of as a tapestry — the basics are the same, yet death and dying beliefs and customs vary across the world and even in our own state. Developing a sensitivity and competency on cultural issues is paramount to successfully serving patients from diverse backgrounds.

“Buddhist Skills for Helping the Dying”

Jacqueline Roemer, MA     Sycamore
What skills inherent in the practice of Buddhism might be useful for hospice professionals in their work with the dying? This presentation will introduce concepts that may be helpful to professionals, patients and families of all faiths in easing the process of dying.

Kathleen Roble, MS     Birch
A Lifetime Legacies life review video program expands the horizons of intergenerational hospice programming by using teen volunteers to record patients’ life stories, most cherished memories and special words of wisdom. The video becomes a keepsake for loved ones and can provide lasting memories to help families through the grieving period and long after.

“Health Care Reform and Hospice in 2009 and Beyond”

J. Donald Schumacher, PsyD     Silver Oak A
Who better to talk about the changes and challenges facing the hospice industry in the near future than National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization President Donald Schumacher? With his finger on the pulse of Washington, he is in a great position to identify potential solutions for... first employee of Hospice Circle of Love in Enid, serving as both nurse and Patient Care Coordinator. Four years later she was promoted to become the Executive Director, a position she held until her retirement this past May. She is certified as a hospice administrator and served on the board of the Oklahoma Hospice and Palliative Care Association. Graber is married to Ron, a minister, and the two have four children and six grandchildren.

Ruth Ann Kelley, RMT

Ruth Ann Kelley graduated from St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn. with a Bachelor’s in education and a minor in English. She taught at the elementary, college and adult education levels over the next 15 years until deciding to join the corporate world. Upon overcoming a life-threatening illness, she found a growing interest in meditation, holistic life, nutrition that, over time, led to the Master levels of Usui and Karuna © Reiki.

Clayton Hickox

Clayton Hickox serves as the Director of Home Services for the Oklahoma State Department of Health. He directs and manages the state licensure and federal certification programs for more than 800 home health, hospice and end-stage renal disease centers across the state. He is responsible for scheduling on-site surveys for regulatory compliance determination and reviews and processes the applications for state licensure and Medicare certification. Hickox has a Bachelor’s degree in nursing from the University of Oklahoma.

Joan Hutchings, MHR

Joan Hutchings has worked for over 15 years in the field of human services, the past five as Volunteer Coordinator at St. John Hospice in Tulsa, developing a comprehensive volunteer management and training program. She has a Bachelor’s degree in public administration from Northeastern State University and a Master’s in human relations, specializing in organizational behavior, from the University of Oklahoma.

Melody Lahann, MS, MHCA

Melody Lahann serves as the Manager of Quality Improvement and Compliance for St. John Home Health and Hospice in Tulsa. She has a Bachelor’s degree in political science and two Master’s degrees, in mass communications and in health care. She has given numerous presentations at hospice conferences at both the state and national level. A long-time hospice veteran, Lahann serves on the Board of Directors of the Oklahoma Hospice and Palliative Care Association.

Jackie Lenzy

Jackie Lenzy is Education Coordinator for the Alzheimer’s Association, Oklahoma/Arkansas Chapter. An experienced educator and public speaker, she has worked in a variety of corporate and non-profit settings. She has a Bachelor of Science in biology and a Bachelor of Arts in accounting. She develops and delivers educational programs to families, caregivers, volunteers, health professionals and community groups concerning Alzheimer’s disease and caregiving strategies.
Please be sure and visit our exhibitors (indicated by the orange line on the map) and thank them for their support of the 2009 OHPCA Conference.

Keeley Mancuso
Keeley Mancuso, HTPA, a native Oklahoman and a member of the Cherokee Nation, has been developing her intuitive healing abilities through training and development since she was a young adult. She is trained in Healing Touch Master, Emotional Freedom Techniques, Spinal Acupressure and as an energy healer from the Golden Light Institute. She owns Healing Therapies and Wellness, Inc., a holistic wellness center, offering healing therapies, self-care education and spiritual direction in Tulsa and is also a volunteer for St. John Hospice.

Marianne Matzo, PhD, GNP-BC, FPCN, FAAN
Marianne Matzo currently holds the Ziegler Chair in Palliative Care Nursing at the University of Oklahoma College of Nursing. In 2005, she initiated the Sooner Palliative Care Institute, through which research is conducted to ensure the delivery of high quality care and to educate health professionals to provide excellent care.
